

METRO'S 30TH ANNIVERSARY EXHIBITION

through July 6

Charleston Heights Arts Center

In 1973 the City of Las Vegas Police Department and Clark County Sheriff's Department merged to become Metro. Exhibit features vintage photographs and other memorabilia.

Call 229-4674
for information.

FREE ADMISSION TO GALLERY EXHIBITIONS

VIVA DOWNTOWN:

Celebrating the Aerial Gallery

through July 25

City Hall Bridge Gallery
4th Street and Stewart Avenue

New City Hall Bridge Gallery features original artwork from some of the artists whose banners are hanging in the Aerial Gallery (Las Vegas Boulevard between Charleston and Fremont) and a collection of 2002's banners. The gallery is across the bridge from the City Hall parking garage's 3rd floor.

VISIONS

through August 3

Reed Whipple Cultural Center

Sarah Vinci curates a group exhibition of works by emerging San Francisco Bay-area photographers.

A WAY WITH WORDS

Susan Hensel

July 11-August 24

Japanese Book Binding Workshop

Sunday, August 17, 1-5 pm

Charleston Heights Arts Center

Sculptor and painter Susan Hensel was hooked when she bound her first book. For the past two decades, she has been experimenting with the book in all of its ramifications and uses every medium at her disposal. Her "books" are truly multi-media pieces of art, but are not only visually fascinating. They also explore issues of personal responsibility, values and faith.

Call 229-4674 for information or to make a reservation for the workshop

PEOPLE, PLACES & THINGS

Jonathan Puls

August 15-September 21

Reed Whipple Cultural Center

Jonathan Puls uses his everyday experiences to connect religious and mythological themes. From his landscapes to his recent interior, figurative work, he investigates archetypal stories while celebrating the simple visual pleasures of his own place and time.

