PASTEL NATIONAL 2012

March 30 - May 13, 2012

Pastel National at The Wichita Center for the Arts

The Wichita Center for the Arts is pleased to sponsor the Pastel National 2012 Exhibition. This event is made possible thanks to underwriting from the Fred C. and Mary R. Koch Foundation.

The Pastel National Exhibition features one of the art disciplines we teach and support at the Center, and allows our members, students and community at large to view the direction of pastel media nationally. The next Pastel National Exhibition will be presented March 2014.

About The Wichita Center for the Arts

The Wichita Center for the Arts, founded in 1920 as the Wichita Art Association, is a non-profit cultural and educational organization. The area's oldest and most comprehensive multi-disciplinary art center houses a permanent collection of fine and decorative arts, gallery exhibition space, an art reference library, the Irene Vickers Baker Theatre, The Mary R. Koch School of Visual Arts, and The Creative Child Center Preschool.

Juror's Statement

I applaud the Wichita Center for the Arts for the high caliber work submitted to the Pastel National Exhibition 2012. Due to the quality of the artwork, my role as juror and judge was personally challenging.

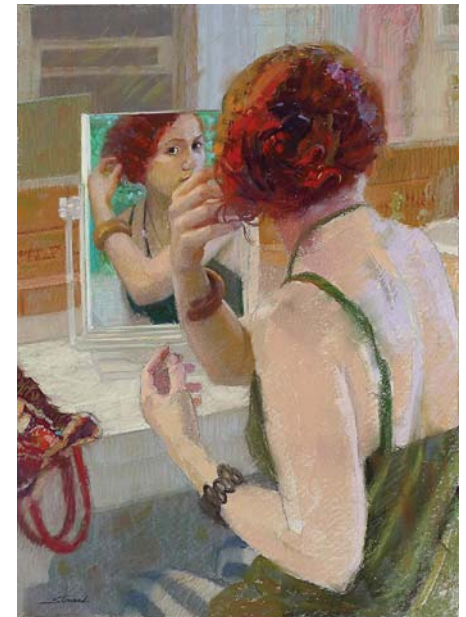

In viewing the entries and selecting the awards, I looked for three things: a high level of craft or technical accomplishment, conceptual substance, and a sense of authenticity reflecting the artist's personal vision.

It has been an honor for me to spend time with the works of so many talented artists. A special thanks to each participant for entering. I anticipate a wonderful show.
